

Deep End, 2021. Acrylic on wood panel. 30 x 36"

BIOGRAPHY

I like to start with already having a lot of information to respond to. I think of working into older paintings as approaching a frozen river that I can carve back into, cracking it open to commingle new ideas with the already existing flow of information in the painting underneath.

- Jenna Pirello

A Boston Native, Jenna Pirello traveled to Yale University to earn her MFA in painting, before settling in Portland, Maine, where she currently lives and works.
